

Mo Chanmugham

Executive Coach

Mo is an ICF certified coach with a background in law, marketing, and entertainment. Prior to becoming a coach, he worked in marketing for Reebok, in talent representation for United Talent Agency in Los Angeles, and served as an in-house attorney for major record labels such as Island/Def Jam and Sony Music in New York City. His love for coaching began when he desired a career change and worked with an executive coach to help navigate this career crossroads moment.

Region

United States

Area of expertise

Developing Leaders

Working Parents

Coaching Style

Mo works with executives across legal, finance, media and technology industries to help them gain the clarity and confidence they need to take the next step in their careers. Mo believes that the transformational power of coaching lies in helping his clients increase their level of self-awareness so that they can view their challenges from a more empowered perspective. Through new beliefs, clients can take new actions, that yield the results they desire.

Coaching Speciality

- Paternity Leave
 - Leadership Development
 - Personal Branding
 - Career Transition
-

Training & Qualifications

Mo has a BS in Business Administration from Boston University and a JD from New England Law Boston. He received his coach training certification from the Coaches Training Institute and is an ACC level coach credited through the International Coach Federation.

1st flr. Peek House , 20 Eastcheap, London, EC3M 1EB · Tel: +44 (0)20 7795 6556 · Email: info@executive-coaching.co.uk